

SUBBOTA TATYANA KONSTANTINOVNA, 68 years old. She lives in the village of Kamyshevakha, Luhansk region, in a private house. The settlement is in a five-kilometer zone near the contact line. She is widow and lives alone. Has serious diseases of the musculoskeletal system. She underwent two operations on the joints of her legs. Moves with crutches and hardly leaves the house. Needs constant help and psychosocial support. She has minimum pension, around 2000 UAH, much of which is spent on the purchase of medicines and on the boards of public services.

Now, due to the coronavirus epidemic, quarantine has been announced throughout the country. For Tatyana Konstantinovna, life has become even more difficult and dangerous. She feels very vulnerable and unprotected from the terrible disease. Due to the small income, she saves a lot.

As part of the HelpAge Canada project, Tatyana Konstantinovna received a set of personal hygiene and sanitation products. Thanks to humanitarian assistance, an elderly woman has been provided with all the necessary means to keep her house clean and maintain personal hygiene during the coronavirus pandemic.
